THE INFORMATION WE COLLECT

We collect both personal and non-personal information from you online.

For the purpose of this CARD.com Privacy Policy, when we use the term “personal information” we mean information that is collected in conjunction with your name. We typically collect such information by requesting that you complete an online application. When we use the term “non-personal information” we mean information that is not collected in conjunction with your name. We may use the following technologies to collect information:

- Cookies. Many sites use “cookies,” which are small text files that reside on your computer to identify you as a unique user. We may use cookies on our Website to allow us to, among other things, measure activity and to personalize your experience. For instance, cookies may enable us to remember your viewing preferences without requiring you to re-type a user name and password. Cookies may also allow us to track your status or progress when requesting products, services, or information. If you choose, you can set your browser to reject cookies or you can manually delete individual or all of the cookies on your computer by following your browser’s help file directions. However, if your browser is set to reject cookies or you manually delete cookies, you may have some trouble accessing and using some of the pages and features that are currently on our Website, or that we may put on our Website in the future.

- Web Beacons. A web beacon is an electronic file on a web page that allows us to count and recognize users who have visited that page. Among other things, a web beacon can be used in HTML-formatted email to determine responses to our communications and measure their effectiveness. You can generally avoid web beacons in email by turning off HTML display and displaying only the text portion of your email.
- Internet Protocol (IP) Address. As you enter our Website, we capture and retain the IP address of the device you are using, such as a personal computer or a mobile device.
- Location and Usage Information. If you use our mobile application or access the Website using a mobile device, we may collect information concerning your location, information about when a mobile application is launched, individual session lengths for mobile application, or why a mobile application may not be working.

Do Not Track Header: Some web browsers and devices permit you to broadcast a preference that you not be “tracked” online. At this time, we do not modify your experience based upon whether such a signal is broadcast.

HOW WE USE PERSONAL INFORMATION

Our primary purpose in collecting information about you is to provide you with products, services, and information that we think may be of interest to you. We may also decide to use information about you to track how you use our Website. In addition, we may aggregate the information that you provide with the information that other users provide in order to conduct research, analysis, or studies for our own purposes (i.e., not related to providing you with specific products or services).

We may decide to send email to people who provide us with their email addresses. If you decide that you do not want to receive commercial emails from us, you can “opt-out” from receiving such emails by clicking on the “unsubscribe” link provided at the bottom of every commercial email. Please note that if you choose to opt-out, we will still send you email relating to specific products or services that you purchase, or email that we believe is pertinent to any communication that you have sent to us, or relationship that you may have with us. If you decide at a later time that you would like to receive commercial emails from us, you can re-add yourself to our communication list. If you are a registered user of the Website, you may also change your communication preferences after logging into the Website.

our databases, to research and analyze the people who request products, services or information from us, to prepare and distribute communications, or to respond to inquiries. Except as otherwise noted in this policy, any party with whom we share your personal information is required either contractually or by law to keep it confidential and not to disclose it without your consent and to only use such information as required for the services to be performed.

- Other Companies: We may provide information to carefully selected outside companies when we believe their products or services may be of interest to you.
- Law Enforcement and Legal Process. We may disclose personal information to government and regulatory agencies to comply with a lawful summons, court order, subpoena, discovery request, fraud investigation, audit, regulatory examination or other valid court, government, or regulatory agency request.

Behavioral Advertisers. We may participate in behavioral-based advertising. This means that a third party may use technology, such as a cookie on your browser or a web beacon, to identify you on our Website so that they can provide advertising about products and services tailored to your interest. That advertising may appear either on our Website, or on other websites. If you would like to opt-out of behavioral advertising based on your use of our Website, you can do so by visiting the Network Advertising Initiative at www.networkadvertising.org and the Digital Advertising Alliance at www.aboutads.info.
